Overview

Each region will determine the format of the regional event.

The state FFA Quiz Contest will be administered orally.

All participants will stand in a line. The moderator will ask a question to the first participant in the line. If the participant answers the question correctly, they will move to the back of the line. If they answer the question incorrectly, they will step to the side. The same question will be asked to the next person in line. If that person provides the correct answer, all participants that answered the same question incorrectly will be eliminated from the event.

The state winner will be determined when only two participants remain in the contest. When one participant provides an incorrect answer to a question, the other participant must answer the same question correctly and provide the correct answer to one additional question.

Questions will be developed from the sources identified in the FFA Quiz Resources document which is available at www.kyffa.org
