

Kentucky FFA Middle School Essay Contest

2025 Topic

Theme: Under One Roof

Background: The agricultural industry has many different components and requires a wide range of workers. From farmers and ranchers who are working in the daily production of food to those working in laboratories to develop new technologies and those working to ensure safe food in manufacturing facilities, a wide variety of talents and abilities are needed to keep the industry moving forward.

This year's State Convention theme reminds members that:

Just as the different rooms in a house serve their own unique purpose, the members of Kentucky FFA have different purposes and passions that are all united under the roof of agriculture.

Prompt: Discuss the importance of different talents, abilities, and perspectives of FFA members and how members can use these talents to serve the agricultural industry as we are Under One Roof.
